THE SECRETARY OF THE MERCHANTS' AND MECHANICS' MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA, writes as follows in relation to our classification of its assets:

Your financial condition of this date contains a statement of the assets of this company, and in the same, you refer to your profit by unwarrantably disparaging the company, and a part of these investments.

We ask leave to correct this, and to say that all of these investments are bona fide investments, and that this company is sound and its business a healthy condition.

THE STEAMSHIP PACIFIC at this port from Liverpool brings seven days later intelligence. There had been an advance of a quarter of a penny per pound in cotton, with active sales.

THE BANK OF AMSTERDAM has raised the rates of discount to four per cent. Dutch stocks had declined in consequence about three-quarters per cent.

IT WAS THE IMPRESSION in London financial circles that of the 24th of October, about one half would go into the Bank of England, and the remainder into the Bank of France.

THE LONDON FINE OF $100 says— About twenty letters mention the rate of exchange on London continues to be fully maintained, every available bill being bought up to facilitate the completion of the remaining contract for the transmission of gold from this city to London.

THE BULLION in the loan and banking departments together amounted to £175,368, which, as compared with £129,400 at the previous week's report, shows an increase of £45,968.

THE NOTES in circulation amounted to £20,433,000, which, as compared with £20,717,746 at the amount of the previous week's return, shows an increase of £284,746.

THIS STATEMENT is less unsatisfactory than several of late. Instead of a heavy decrease there is a slight increase in the bullion, and a slight decrease in the public and private deposits together of about half a million sterling, and chiefly on account of the latter, which compelled the bank to sell more stock in order to lessen the drain upon the reserve of notes.
